

interior designer

BRITAIN'S OLDEST MAGAZINE FOR PROFESSIONAL INTERIOR DESIGNERS

£3.95 JULY 2019

Stunning wood flooring for any interior

COLLABORATION WITH GORDON RAMSAY

Lucky Cat by Gordon Ramsay Restaurants is set to open in Mayfair this summer and is already a hotly anticipated addition to London's dining scene. Building further excitement around the launch, is the news that the group has collaborated with renowned design studio, AfroditiKrassa, to bring Lucky Cat to life. AfroditiKrassa, known for its work on the likes of Dishoom and Curzon Cinemas, has unveiled that the concept will draw design inspiration from urban Tokyo in the 1930s, particularly the Kissa concepts found throughout Japan at the time. These Kissas were underground clubs that offered food, jazz music and great drinks, and were once a thriving institution. Lucky Cat reflects back to this vibrant era with playful references and nods to these urban cool design details throughout. With an underlying art-deco influence, the layout has been conceived in a way that ensures every table in the house will offer an exciting perspective. Chef's Tables, situated in the heart of the venue, allow guests to choose from a bespoke, handwritten, seasonal menu whilst savoring the theatre of watching the team of expert Chefs at work. Meanwhile, the Raw Bar offers a luxurious setting to enjoy exquisite sushi and sashimi. Customers will also be given the chance to hire out a private dining room, offering three spaces for events and memorable celebrations, with interiors that echo the main restaurant space, featuring shades of dark indigo, distressed leather chairs and warm, mood lighting throughout. Design features such as the Uchiwa fan ceiling installation and the cast brass bamboo bar front enhance the Asian flair of the venue, whilst rare Japanese knife displays will peak the interest of guests as they make their way to their seats. Intricately curved brass screens, antique mirrors, black bamboo paneling and layered linen screens are just a few of the elements, which build a luxurious undertone throughout, whilst the geometric patterns, Japanese indigo dyed fabrics and distressed leather reinforce the playful ambience.

